
COAT - Corro-coat / Chemrez

Posted by ninodal - 2007/01/05 08:11 is there a triangle forming here? resistance is at 5.8/5.7... and the volume needed for it to breakout is >79,380,000... condition: price next week should respect the the aggressive demand line and not go below 5.6/5.5...

IMO, its risky to trade this. Tama ba ako? am seeing a possible bearish divergence ... price going up since September but MACD going down.

Triangle also about to reach its apex.

just my two cents worth =) :roll:

mahabang upward range drawing ko dito. price will touch the upper line of the channel when the small triangle reaches its TP. agree with tina.. bullish divergence sa daily chart. pero sa weekly ndi naman po.

breakdown... hit parabolic SAR at 5.2... now at lower border of bollinger band... now at threshold of 32MA...

coat demand line not very aggressive... but prices have steadily been going up in the recent trading days... evident support at 4.85... resistance/previous high of 5.9... RSI on its way up, now at 72... MACD still in the negative...

at last coat was able to break the resistance at 5.3... next resistance at 5.9 would likely again be tested :)

Re: COAT - Corro-coat / Chemrez

if we impose a fibonacci retracement on the recent high and recent low of coat... parang pwedeng mag take ng position now and sell at the resistance dictated by the 38.2% level of drop at 5.13 (or 5.1, just to be on the safe side) :)

Note: this will only work if the recent bottom holds, if coat retraces its drop and if we see a reversal pattern (down to either up or consolidation) daming if :) kaya careful :) hehehe :)

good luck to all coat traders :)

PD: dont have coat :) ipit galore :)
